Math Mysteries

with Dr. Raj Shah

Students will experience the joy of mathematics and problem solving. Dr. Shah will teach simple, yet powerful ways to solve math problems.

Dr. Shah graduated from The Ohio State University and earned his Ph.D. in physics from the University of Illinois. Dr. Shah spent nine years working for Intel before he pursued his passion of teaching math.

Calling All Scientists

with Anita Shively

Come join us for more science fun. Participants will be surprised at what they can do with some simple household items, everything from making kaleidoscopes to creating funny putty.

Mrs. Shively, a former teacher with 36 years of experience, taught at the elementary level including many years of gifted inclusion. She now leads student-teacher workshops.

Claymation Creations

with Tracy Miller-Robbins

Bring an imagination and steady hand. With just a computer, colored clay and webcam, students will create colorful shapes, objects and characters that transform and move.

Ms. Miller-Robbins, an independent animator and associate professor at CCAD, has taught experimental animation and storyboarding for 18 years.

Talking Sticks

with Chris Sauer

Students will make Native American talking sticks, which many tribes have used for centuries. Only the person with the stick may speak during a meeting, but all voices are heard.

Mr. Sauer is a life-long drawer, painter and creator of art. At Grandview Heights City Schools, Sauer teaches art to elementary, middle and high school students.
