Harnessing the Power of Parents: How Districts and Parents Can Work Together to ★ Support Gifted Students ★

With limited resources, school districts need the support of families to ensure that the needs of gifted students are being met. How can parents act as advocates while working in tandem to bring enrichment opportunities and resources to the schools?

Angela will talk about the journey of her local school district and parent group. She will discuss ★ proactive partnering that can impact gifted supports and services for all stakeholders.
