Career Development Seminar Series

Presentation Skills:

The art of scientific storytelling

By

Dr. Christin Burd

Department of Molecular Genetics
The Ohio State University

Dec 4, 2-3p.m.

Snacks will be provided.

Smith Seminar Room, Physics Research Building

An effective scientific presentation should clearly lead the listener through your experimental design, results and conclusions. In a way, you are telling a story, and in doing so the audience must be fully engaged. This seminar will provide tips to improve the logical flow, clarity, appeal and aesthetics of any talk. Come learn from Dr Burd's expert advice and tips.

All (Women and Men) Students, postdocs, scientists, staff and faculty in STEMM disciplines are invited for the seminar.
