

Discussion Night – Choice or Opportunity

Why are women underrepresented in STEM fields?

Wednesday November 14 from 5:30-7pm

In PRB 4138

RSPV requested, but not required (gwip.osu@gmail.com)

Dinner will be provided

The Graduate Women in Physics (GWIP) would like to invite everyone to a discussion night. We will be focusing on “Why are women underrepresented in the STEM fields? – is this a choice or lack of opportunity?”

We want this to be a fruitful discussion and encourage everyone to attend.

This event is co-sponsored by the Center for Emergent Materials

Topics that will be discussed:

- Debunking Innate Differences
- Gendered Toys
- Stereotypes + Stereotype Threat
- Gender Bias in Science Hiring
- When Scientists Choose Motherhood
