

FROM EXOTIC TO AUTHENTIC:

Chinese Linguistic Practice in San Francisco, CA

Lauren Hall-Lew
University of Edinburgh

Lauren Hall-Lew is a Lecturer at the University of Edinburgh and received her PhD from Stanford University. She is interested in modeling patterns of phonetic variation with respect to social meaning.

Monday, April 15 | 4:00 pm
Ohio Union | Round Room